Responsible Gaming Policy

Supersize

Last Updated: October 8, 2026

At Supersize, Inc., we are committed to promoting responsible gaming practices and ensuring the well-being of our users. Although skill-based real-money gaming is legally different from gambling due to skill being the determining factor in outcomes, individuals may find themselves unable to play responsibly. We recognize that gaming should be an enjoyable and entertaining experience, and it is our responsibility to support our users in making informed choices about their gaming habits. To uphold this commitment, we have implemented the following Responsible Gaming Policy as it relates to your participation in contests made available via https://solitaire.fun/ (the "Website"), mobile application (together with the Website, the "Platform") and related services (collectively, the "Services").

Notwithstanding any provisions contained herein, all efforts and actions taken by you during the course of playing any contests and/or otherwise interacting with the Services are your sole responsibility. It is your choice to decide whether to participate in contests and/or otherwise utilize the Services. By participating in and/or otherwise accessing the Services, you represent and warrant that you accept any and all risks as it relates to your use of the Services.

Playing Responsibly

Video games are intended for entertainment and should be enjoyed as part of a balanced lifestyle. However, excessive or compulsive gaming can lead to negative effects on your health, relationships, and daily responsibilities. To combat excessive or compulsive gaming habits, you may request the Supersize exclude you from and/or limit your ability to participate in the Services as follows:

- Self-Exclusion – You may voluntarily self-exclude from accessing the Services at any time. You will not be able to access your account or certain part of the Services (including, contests) until the designated self-exclusion period has expired and your account is reinstated. You may ask that your account to be excluded by emailing us at support@supersize.gg. The self-exclusion will last for the duration of the exclusion period requested (the "Exclusion Period"), and will only be lifted after we receive your written email requesting to reinstate your account following completion of the Exclusion Period. It will not be possible for you to reactivate your account prior to the conclusion of the Exclusion Period.

  If you choose to self-exclude, we will use all reasonable efforts to ensure we promptly comply with your self-exclusion. Supersize is not responsible for any consequences or losses, howsoever caused, that you may suffer or incur if you attempt to continue to access or make use of the Services through additional online accounts or wallets, including, without limitation, in circumstances where you have changed or utilized alternative account details, provided misleading, inaccurate or incomplete details, or otherwise seek to circumvent the Exclusion Period by creating multiple account(s) in violation of our Terms of Use.

During the Exclusion Period, (1) Supersize will not send you any marketing or promotional material and we will not accept any deposits or entries from you, and (2) you may not open a new account. Should Supersize determine that you have created an additional account, you acknowledge that we reserve the right to suspend and/or terminate your account(s) and/or otherwise restrict your ability to access the Services.

- Self-Limitation – Supersize recommends that you set limits in order to avoid abusing the Services. You may set deposit, entry fee, and/or contest entry restrictions by contacting us at support@supersize.gg. We will use best efforts to implement requested limits promptly upon receipt; however, until in place, you are responsible for ensuring that you do not exceed the limits you have set for yourself. You can change or revoke the limits you have set at any time.

  Self-limitation is in addition to the limitations imposed by Supersize in accordance with applicable law(s) and/or the provisions set forth herein. Supersize reserves the right to impose limitations on deposits, entry fees, and/or other transactions to use the Services. Supersize reserves the right to change these limitations at any time in our sole discretion.

- Permanent Account Closure – You may elect to permanently close your account at any time. If you wish to terminate your account, please email us at support@supersize.gg.

Supersize reserves the right, in our sole discretion and without prior notice, to undertake any of the measures included in this Responsible Gaming Policy (including, but not limited to, restricting, suspending, and/or terminating your access to the Services) if at any time we feel you are abusing the Services and/or acting irresponsibly by engaging in habits and/or behaviors that may be harmful to you and/or other users of the Services.

Recognizing Problem Gaming Habits

- Spending more money or time on contests than you can afford or originally intended
- Neglecting work, family, or other responsibilities due to contest participation
- Feeling anxious, irritable, or distressed when not participating in contests
- Borrowing money or selling possessions to fund contest entries
- Being dishonest with family or friends about the extent of your participation
- Repeatedly failing in efforts to limit or stop participating in contests

Potential Risks of Excessive Gaming

- Disruption of sleep patterns and/or fatigue
- Health issues
- Reduced physical activity
- Social isolation or withdrawal from real-world activities
- Financial problems

Seek Help If Needed

If you or someone you know is experiencing difficulty controlling gaming habits, please consider reaching out to a mental health professional or contacting a gaming addiction support resource. Such resources include the following:
